UNCLE 'BLINKY' BILL BUCHANAN

Respected Aboriginal Elder and former RQI Co-Chair will share his personal reconciliation journey and vision for future of the movement.

Uncle Bill Buchanan is a descendant of the Kooma/Gwamu First Nation Peoples of South West Queensland, a former Aboriginal Co-Chair and State Coordinator (Constitutional Recognition Coalition) at RQI. He is a serving Aboriginal Elder/Respected Person of the Murri Courts in Queensland and an Ambassador of the National Indigenous Cancer Network (NICaN).

He has significant experience in developing and integrating Reconciliation Action Plans (RAPs) as well as implementing reconciliation programs in schools.

Uncle Bill's expertise extends the community, government and private sectors, working as an Indigenous business facilitator, strategic policy advisor, program manager, cultural competence/cultural safety trainer and complexity management practitioner.
