Rebuilding Country before colonisation

Brett Leavy is a Kooma digital artist and creator of Virtual Songlines, bringing Country before colonisation to life through immersive 3D reconstructions.

Brett manages Bilbie Virtual Labs, a First Nations social impact organisation using Virtual Storytelling software to empower First Nations communities to record, preserve, and respectfully represent the traditional knowledge and connection of First Nation people to their custodial landscape.

His Trailblazers portraits lit the Sydney Opera House sails in 2024.

Join Brett to explore how digital technology can help preserve traditional First Nations' culture and knowledge systems going forward.
